Diagram and Table of Performance

The Main Advantages are:

- Customer can easily collect and record data of his own flock.
- Single flock results are shown as graphs and tables.
- A peer report ranks the customer's own flock is according to egg number/HH.
- A worldwide database is built up, which gives reliable information about the performance of our birds and makes calculations and analysis much easier.
- The anonymous comparison with similar flocks in the database is a valuable and interesting evaluation.
- With the input of additional information such as housing system, density, climate etc. even more reliable comparisons are possible.
- The lighting program software for open houses is implemented.
- Input and treatment of economic data is in the pipeline.
